I circled "Think Creatively" because I did something that no one else has done.

I circled "Learn from Failure" because I made mistakes but they helped me get better.

I circled make connections because I made lots of friends. I also circled Try because I tried a lot new things.

I could 'leave for failure' leave alone I made nothing like building my project I fixed and improved it:

I could solve problems because I fixed things every project.
I could make something because I made something better than my project and what we learned the work.

I could trust because I tried something new every day.
I could start because I started ideas with my table.

I Tried Many thing ~~this~~ week and wonder about this and i solve my problems

Hmm...

I circled
every thing
because

I think that Bakken

really helps teach you these
very thing's.
